UAE and India Release Joint Statement Reinforcing Dedication to Strategic Partnership

Abu Dhabi: In response to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's invitation, President His Highness Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan conducted an official visit to Gujarat, India, from January 9th to 10th, 2024, serving as the Chief Guest at the 10th edition of the Vibrant Gujarat Global Summit.

During the visit, Prime Minister Narendra Modi extended a warm welcome to His Highness Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan. The leaders engaged in constructive discussions, underscoring the enduring strength of their Comprehensive Strategic Partnership and reiterating their commitment to enhancing the long-standing strategic ties between the UAE and India.

Notably, this marked the fourth visit by Sheikh Mohamed to India in the past eight years and his second official visit as the President of the UAE. His previous visit in September 2023 coincided with the G20 Leaders' Summit in New Delhi, where significant discussions transpired on the sidelines. The leaders acknowledged the six visits by Modi to the UAE over the past nine years, including his participation in COP28 in Dubai in December 2023.

Global Engagement: The leaders deliberated on the significant global roles played by both nations in 2023, particularly India's Presidency of the G20 and the UAE's Presidency of COP28. The UAE praised India's ambitious G20 Presidency and the collaborative efforts to align the G20 process with COP28 throughout 2023. The UAE, as a Guest Country, expressed gratitude for India's invitation to the summit and underscored its commitment to multilateral cooperation on global issues.

The leaders exchanged congratulations on the successful hosting of COP28 by the UAE, highlighting the historic achievement of "The UAE Consensus" and expressing appreciation for India's support. They also recognized the UAE's recent inclusion in the BRICS group on January 1, 2024, with the UAE emphasizing its dedication to championing multilateralism for global peace and development.

India-UAE Relationship: Reflecting on the formal elevation of the India-UAE relationship to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership in 2017, the leaders expressed satisfaction with the significant progress across various sectors. Several memoranda of understanding were exchanged during the visit, focusing on investment cooperation in innovative healthcare projects, the renewable energy sector, and food park development. Additionally, a memorandum between DP World and the Government of Gujarat was endorsed.

Economic Cooperation: The leaders commended the robust economic and commercial cooperation, with the UAE being the fourth-largest investor in India in 2022-23. The Abu Dhabi Investment Authority's establishment in Gujarat International Finance Tec-City (GIFT City) was acknowledged as a positive step to facilitate bilateral investments. Both leaders welcomed the growth in India-UAE trade following the Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) and expressed optimism in achieving the $100 billion non-oil trade target by 2030.

Partnership in Energy and Health: The leaders pledged to enhance collaboration in the energy sector, emphasizing cooperation in oil, gas, renewable energy, green hydrogen, solar energy, and grid connectivity. Investment across the energy spectrum, including India's Strategic Petroleum Reserve Programme, was emphasized. The importance of health cooperation was highlighted, with a focus on formalizing a framework for continuous collaboration, promoting investments, and exchanging expertise.

Multilateralism and Security: Both sides emphasized the importance of multilateralism and collective action, particularly with India congratulating the UAE for its successful tenure as an elected member of the UN Security Council. The leaders affirmed their commitment to maritime security, connectivity, and defense cooperation, along with the fight against terrorism and extremism.

President Sheikh Mohamed expressed gratitude for the warm hospitality extended by PM Narendra Modi, who, in turn, looked forward to his seventh visit to the UAE in February 2024.

Google Cuts Hundreds of Jobs in Hardware and Voice Assistant Teams as Part of Cost-Cutting Initiative

Google Implements Job Cuts in Hardware, Voice Assistant, and Engineering Teams as Part of Cost-Cutting Measures. Google has laid off hundreds of employees from its hardware, voice assistance, and engineering teams as the company focuses on "responsibly investing in our company's biggest priorities and the significant opportunities ahead," according to a company statement. The organizational changes include some role eliminations globally, with the augmented reality hardware team facing the most significant impact. This move aligns with Google's commitment to reducing costs, following a similar pledge made by executives at both Google and its parent company, Alphabet. About a year ago, Google announced plans to lay off 12,000 employees, representing around 6 percent of its workforce. Google is not alone in its cost-cutting efforts, as other technology companies have also taken similar measures. Meta, the parent company of Facebook, has slashed over 20,000 jobs in the past year to reassure investors, resulting in a 178 percent increase in Meta's stock price in 2023. Spotify, the music streaming service, disclosed in December that it was cutting 17 percent of its global workforce, marking its third round of layoffs in 2023. This decision was part of Spotify's strategy to reduce costs and enhance profitability. Amazon, too, recently laid off hundreds of employees in its Prime Video and studios units, in addition to an upcoming layoff of around 500 Twitch employees. Amazon has been trimming its workforce after a pandemic-driven hiring surge. In March, the company announced plans to lay off 9,000 employees, following an earlier announcement in January 2023 to cut 18,000 jobs.

The job cuts at Google come amid intense competition with Microsoft in the artificial intelligence domain. Microsoft has been ramping up its artificial intelligence offerings to compete with Google. In September, Microsoft introduced a Copilot feature, integrating artificial intelligence into products such as the Bing search engine, Edge browser, and Windows for corporate customers.

Major Investment Initiatives: China's Significant Projects in the Philippines

Manila: The Philippines has strategically positioned itself as a dynamic player in the East Asian region through the establishment of numerous free trade zones. As a member of both ASEAN and the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP), a significant free trade agreement encompassing Asia-Pacific nations, the country continues to be a magnet for Chinese investments, driven partly by its advantageous geographical location.

The proximity of Hong Kong, just an hour's flight from Manila (with Davao City in the south being a bit farther), has transformed the Philippines into a pivotal hub, capturing the attention and interest of an increasing number of Chinese investors.

Infrastructure: The confluence of geography and the rollout of extensive connectivity infrastructure, with even more ambitious projects in the pipeline, have unleashed fresh opportunities. Recent economic policy tweaks, such as amendments to the 85-year-old Public Services Act, further opening up closed sectors to 100 per cent foreign investment, position the Philippines to command greater attention and presence in the regional economic landscape.

China, as part of its Belt & Road Initiative (BRI), has invested significantly in the Philippines, with estimates suggesting BRI expenses reaching as much as $8 trillion. As infrastructure projects progress, new opportunities emerge, with light manufacturing, oil and gas, infrastructure, and nationwide digitisation programs witnessing major Chinese investments.

Top Trading Partner: China stands as the largest trading partner of the Philippines, leading in imports, exports, and ranking third in foreign investment. Despite tensions in the Spratlys, bilateral trade cooperation is thriving, reaching close to $87.7 billion in 2022, marking a 7.1 per cent increase from the previous year.

Chinese and Hong Kong-based firms have invested a substantial $1.7 billion in the Philippines from 2016 to 2022, positioning China just below Japan in leading investments. Noteworthy projects include the completed Estrella-Pantaleon Bridge and the Binondo-Intramuros Bridge, funded by China.

Infrastructure Projects: Several infrastructure projects funded by China are underway, such as the Davao River Bridge and the Davao City Coastal Bypass Road Project, both supported by Chinese grants. However, not all projects proceed smoothly, with the Mindanao Railway Phase 1 experiencing setbacks in negotiations with Chinese counterparts.

The Makati Subway, PNR South-Long Haul Project, and oil and gas exploration in Alegria, Cebu, showcase the diverse scope of Chinese investments in the Philippines. Dito Telecommunity, a consortium led by China Telecom, poses formidable competition in the telecommunications sector.

Challenges: While opportunities abound, challenges persist, including project delays due to right-of-way issues and court cases. The Philippines faces obstacles such as corruption, noted in the Transparency International's Corruption Perceptions Index, and skirmishes in the West Philippine Sea.

Despite challenges, the World Bank observes an upward shift in the Philippines' income range to the upper-middle-income bracket, reflecting positive economic prospects. As the country aspires to attain upper-middle-income status by 2023, collaborations with neighboring countries contribute to a promising economic outlook.

Citigroup Plans to Slash 20,000 Jobs and Reports a $1.8 Billion Loss in a 'Disappointing' Quarter

Citigroup Plans to Cut 20,000 Jobs and Records $1.8 Billion Loss in a 'Disappointing' Quarter

Citigroup has announced its intention to eliminate 20,000 jobs over the next two years, acknowledging a "clearly disappointing" quarter that resulted in a $1.8 billion loss due to one-off charges. Despite the loss, the bank's shares have risen more than 1%. CEO Jane Fraser described the fourth quarter as "very clearly disappointing" and emphasized the critical nature of 2024 for the bank. The reduction in the global workforce, representing approximately 8% of staff, is part of a broader reorganization plan. Additionally, Citi will no longer include 40,000 jobs when it spins off its Mexican consumer unit Banamex in an eventual IPO. The bank aims to reach a staffing level of 180,000 employees after these changes. Chief Financial Officer Mark Mason highlighted that the staffing cuts will not impact revenue growth. The loss was driven by $3.8 billion in charges, including reorganization expenses, a reserve related to currency devaluations and instability in Argentina and Russia, and a $1.7 billion payment to replenish a government deposit insurance fund. Citigroup expects to report between $700 million and $1 billion in charges this year related to severance costs and the reorganization. Mason noted that further organizational changes would be announced in the coming weeks. The restructuring, initiated two months ago, aims to save $1 billion and eliminate about 5,000 mostly managerial roles. While some analysts viewed the results as strong when excluding one-off charges, others questioned Citigroup's ability to execute on its restructuring plans and grow the core business effectively.

Bitcoin ETFs in the US Generate $4.6 Billion in Trading Volume on Debut Day

US Bitcoin ETFs Attract $4.6 Billion in Trading Volume on Debut Day

US-listed bitcoin exchange-traded funds (ETFs) witnessed a substantial trading volume of $4.6 billion by Thursday afternoon, as investors eagerly engaged in the groundbreaking products approved by the US securities regulator on Wednesday. These products represent a pivotal moment for the cryptocurrency industry, testing the broader acceptance of digital assets as investments, even though they are still perceived as risky by many professionals.

Eleven spot bitcoin ETFs, including BlackRock's iShares Bitcoin Trust, Grayscale Bitcoin Trust, and ARK 21Shares Bitcoin ETF, among others, commenced trading on Thursday morning, sparking intense competition for market share. "Trading volumes have been relatively strong for new ETF products," remarked Todd Rosenbluth, a strategist at VettaFi. However, he emphasized that the success of these ETFs is a longer-term endeavor beyond just a single day of trading.

The US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) granted approval for these products on Wednesday, ending a decade-long struggle with the crypto industry. SEC Chair Gary Gensler clarified that the approvals did not constitute an endorsement of bitcoin, describing it as a "speculative, volatile asset."

While some executives expressed concerns about bitcoin being a high-risk investment, Vanguard, the largest provider of mutual funds, stated that it had no plans to make the new batch of spot bitcoin ETFs available on its platform to brokerage clients.

Following the SEC's regulatory approval, competition among issuers for market share intensified, with some slashing fees for their products well below the standard in the US ETF industry before Thursday's launch. The fees on the new bitcoin ETFs range from 0.2% to 1.5%, with many firms offering fee waivers for a specified period or asset volume.

Grayscale received approval to convert its existing bitcoin trust into an ETF, creating the world's largest bitcoin ETF overnight with over $28 billion in assets under management. Estimates regarding the potential inflows into spot bitcoin ETFs vary widely, with analysts forecasting gradual growth to surpass $10 billion in 2024. Others suggest these ETFs could attract between $50 billion and $100 billion in 2023 alone, while some expect inflows to reach $55 billion over the next five years.

Tata Aims to Enter UAE Breakfast Cereals Market with the Introduction of 'Soulfull'

Dubai: Tata, the Indian conglomerate, known for its diverse brands such as Jaguar, Land Rover, Tata Tea, and Tata Steel, is now venturing into the UAE breakfast cereal market with its 'Soulfull' range. This move marks Tata Consumer Products' first significant category expansion outside of hot and cold beverages in its international business.

Gharry Eccles, the International President at Tata Consumer Products, stated, "Our strategy is centered on identifying spaces where we can win and add value. 'Soulfull' and its sibling brand 'Joyfull' in Western markets are leading the way for us."

Entering the breakfast cereal market is a challenging endeavor, especially with established players like Kellogg's dominating for decades. However, Eccles remains confident, emphasizing the potential for growth in the UAE and the brand's success in the Indian market.

"While the cereal category has major players, new and trending ingredients like millets are a great way to stimulate sales and interest," he said. "The brand is achieving significant success in the Indian market, and we are seeing the beginnings of the same success with its sister brand Joyfull Millet Muesli, which we launched last year in the UK."

Eccles believes that millets, known for their health benefits, have the potential to be a game-changer. With the increasing emphasis on healthy food choices in the UAE and other Gulf markets, 'Soulfull' aims to capture visibility by offering imaginative, attractive, and tasty cereal mixes and snacks that cater to both children and adults. Prashant Parameswaran, Managing Director and CEO of Tata Consumer Soulfull, said, "People want to eat healthy, and our research for new products is now based on these findings."

Aramex Collaborates with Odys for Potential Unmanned Aerial Vehicle Cargo Delivery

Dubai-based aviation company Odys Aviation is teaming up with logistics giant Aramex to explore the potential of Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV) cargo delivery in the UAE and Oman. The partnership aims to develop autonomous logistics programs and introduce cargo flights using Odys Aviation's hybrid-electric vertical take-off and landing (VTOL) aircraft. These aircraft are designed for cargo operations, capable of delivering all-electric propulsion for distances up to 320 kilometers and offering a hybrid-electric range of more than 1,200 kilometers. The collaboration aims to create a new VTOL aircraft network for Aramex, reducing carbon emissions on pan-GCC flights and providing a zero-carbon air cargo alternative in the region. The first pilot programs will use Odys Aviation's Laila aircraft, with plans to expand to the Alta aircraft, a full-scale vehicle with payload capabilities up to one tonne. If approved by regulatory bodies, operations are expected to launch in new markets within the GCC, contributing to sustainability and innovation targets. Odys Aviation plans to launch a full-scale prototype in 2024, with integration into Aramex's cargo fleet anticipated by early 2028.
